

Here.

DESIGN INTERN

About the Design Team:

The Design Team work across a range of design disciplines with a multitude of skill sets. From brand identities to books, our Designers collaborate closely with all disciplines across the studio to bring creative excellence and disruptive thinking to life.

We approach every project with an open mind, intent on opening up new spaces for creativity. We stand back to see the bigger picture, research the cultural and competitive context and help to build brands with a genuine force for good. We value originality, depth of thought, simplicity of expression, authenticity, and disruptive thinking.

Who you are:

An enthusiastic designer eager to kickstart your career and gain valuable experience whilst seeking out diverse opportunities to improve your craft, expand your portfolio, and contribute your fresh perspective.

Experience:

Ordinarily, you will have studied design and be able to demonstrate great creative ideas delivered in response to a variety of briefs, executed beautifully and presented within a structured portfolio that you are able to passionately speak to.

Why you are Here:

As a design intern, your role is deliberately varied and encompasses all manner of tasks in support of the design process and the wider team. Your work day to day provides wide-ranging opportunities and challenges. You will be briefed on an internal project that will allow you to progress a project through from concept to delivery, with the opportunity to share your journey with our design team towards the end of your internship. You will also be involved with client work, internal initiatives and general support of the creative output of the studio. There will be times when you will be able to step in and help pick up design work at a later stage or support the team with research and development of ideas. This is all part of our collaborative approach, and crucial to our collective success.

From the start of your journey with us we want you to approach every project with an open mind, intent on opening new spaces for creativity. We want you to be inquisitive whilst bringing your unique thinking and perspective to the table. We love to see your personality and interests shine through in the everyday. It is our various approaches to life that make the studio a fun and inspiring place to work.

- You place great emphasis on the combination of conceptual thinking with fierce attention to detail across the course of every project. You prioritise clarity and simplicity in execution.
- You focus on what is fundamental, constant and distinctive about a brand. You invent design solutions that respond to the client's brief, the strategy, the world and the direction of other team members, leading on the creative delivery of your own ideas.
- You independently push ahead with your ideas and speak-up with honesty, using your own initiative, and seeking clarification if and when you need more input or information.
- You seek out opportunities to learn more from our many disciplines, building your understanding of their creative approaches and taking onboard their opinions to enrich your projects.

Technical Skills:

- Good communication and presentation skills
- Competency in Adobe Suite (figma / sketch a bonus)
- Motion / 3D / Illustration / Type design skills a bonus
- Organised and proactive with good attention to detail
- Excellent time management

Place in the team:

Reports to our Internship Team, Connor Davey, Hazel Oguz and Hannah Lee, who will support you and be your champion for growth and development during your time at the studio. You get loads of creative freedom, but you'll always have a member of the design team to support, guide and mentor you through projects. We want your big bold ideas, and your meticulous eye for detail. A great place to learn, watch, and grow in your skills.

To apply:

Send your portfolio to recruitment@heredesign.co.uk with a CV attached and let us know why you would be interested to intern at Here.